

Climate Change and Older People Research Network (CCOPRN)

Special session on using narrative techniques

Thursday 23 August, 2.00 – 4.00pm

Foundation Life Members room, Room 104, Melbourne School of Graduate Research, 1888 Building, Grattan St, Parkville Campus, University of Melbourne (see map below)

Participants: CCOPRN members, VCCCAR members, and other interested participants

Session Chair: Jana Paschen

Featured presenters:

We are fortunate to have the following three excellent speakers from varied backgrounds which should give us excellent coverage of the topic in terms of both the methodology and the research area.

- Mark Davis – Monash University
An overview of narrative methodology
- Jana Paschen – University of Melbourne
Enabling Stories of Change – A Narrative Case Study of Adapting to Coastal Change
- Zoe O’Callaghan – Latrobe University, Albury Wodonga campus
Speaking of farming: Narrative ethnography of the ageing self

Agenda:

- 2:00 Welcome and introductions
- 2:05 Brief introduction to the special session topic – Jana Paschen
- 2:10 Speaker 1 – Mark Davis
- 2:30 Brief Q&A
- 2:35 Speaker 2 – Jana Paschen
- 2:55 Brief Q&A
- 3:00 Speaker 3 – Zoe O’Callaghan
- 3:20 Brief Q&A
- 3:25 General discussion – using narratives to explore the experience of climate change in older people
- 3.55 Other business
 - I. Details of next meeting including location, chair and possible special topic area
 - II. Thanks to our hosts at VCCCAR
- 4.00 Meeting close